By Willard Jones

SIDELIGHT to Saturday's election on the proposal to raise the maximum tax rate from $1.25 to $1.50 on the $100 property valuation was the fact that two of the three people voting in the election had no children of school age.

This fact was disturbing to school officials and members of the school board, inasmuch as it reflected unconcern or lethargy on the part of parents of school children in the affairs of their school.

Of course, the fact that only about one-fifth of the potential eligible voters in the expansive school district participated in the voting likewise was disturbing to school leaders.

REV. JUDSON PRINCE of Fort Worth, pastor of the Oakhurst Baptist Church, who recently conducted a very successful revival meeting at the First Baptist Church in Hamlin, was to slouch in telling yarns during his stay. For example, he told a group of friends:

"My grandmother was a staunch member of the Methodist Church and was zealous of its reputation," Prince declared. "One day one of her little sons was punished for an infraction of home rules. As the youngster was sat down for a period of reflection on his misdeeds, he gouted rebelliously.

"When I grow up I'm going to rob a bank," declared the defiant youth. His mother paid him no mind. "When I grow up I'm going to kill people," he continued in tirade. His mother still made no reply. "When I get big I'm going to join the Baptist Church," he further asserted. To which his mother quickly replied, "Now, see here, young man, that's going too far with your threats."

CHARLIE BROWNFIELD, county attorney, after he was presented as the speaker at last Wednesday's Rotary Club luncheon at the oil mill guest house by his neighbor, W. M. Blackburn of Stamford, who said he had been cited for valor for action along the Italian front in World War II, responded by the assertion that the decorations were passed out to practically every soldier who reported for breakfast the morning following a particularly crucial invasion.

Brownfield told the story of an old friend of his, C. F. Cook, who was late for school one morning years ago. Upon being called to the carpet by his principal, young Cook is reported to have said:

"My dad, who has the habit of sleeping in raw, caked it all," he explained.

"How's that?" inquired the principal.

"Well, about 2:00 o'clock in the morning Ma heard something in chicken house, wakened Pa and sent him out with his shotgun. As he approached the chicken house cautiously, old Tag, our dog, put his cold nose to Pa's rear—and we have all been pickin' chickens like morning, and that's the reason I'm late."

SOME MORE of those sagely barbs of Hal Cochran, one of our favorite writers, will add spice to your reading:

It's okay to guess the age of a woman, but before you tell her, drop off a few years.

If you acquire a bald head, men, keep it under your hat come hot weather.

Fools rush in where the sign says, "Stop, Look and Listen."

A music teacher says 27 voices are only twice as loud as one, and that must be the one in the bathtub.

We pity the poor moths this winter, considering the size of some bathing suits.

Frowning all the time loses you a lot of friends. Why not try facing the situation with a smile?

If getting high up in the world makes you look down on others, we hope you don't.

Put all of your family arguments end to end and they'll reach very few sane decisions.

YOU CAN'T TELL nowadays about the economic condition of the other fellow. For example, a Hamlin couple was discussing a neighbor couple the other day.

She—"I can't figure out the Smiths. They have no car, no phone, no TV, and she hasn't any jewelry or furs."

He—"They probably have some money."

PRETTY-ING UP—There may not be enough candles for Mrs. Amanda Harris' birthday cake, as she celebrated her one hundred fourteenth birthday in San Antonio at the Southton Convalescent Home, where she has been a resident since 1914. All other residents of the home who are able attended the party given by the Bexar County Women's Auxiliary representing county-operated hospitals.

Sante Fe Asking to Discontinue Trains

Doom of the last passenger train service for Hamlin is planned as soon as permission to discontinue the "doodle-bug" motor train of two cars now operating through Hamlin is approved by the Texas Railroad Commission.

This was the word passed to city officials and business men of Hamlin Tuesday when four high officials of the railroad were in Hamlin to discuss the proposed curtailment of service. Here for conferences Tuesday with Hamlin people were E. A. Tusha, division freight and passenger agent of San Angelo; F. E. Hanlon, general passenger agent of Amarillo;

J. R. Fitzgerald, trainmaster of San Angelo; and W. A. J. Carter, superintendent of Slaton.

The remaining passenger train on the Santa Fe through Hamlin is the motor train that goes north at 6:00 a. m. and returns on the southbound schedule at 8:00 p. m. It carries passengers, baggage, express, mail, milk and cream and newspapers.

The train for the year ending February 28 operated at a net loss to the railroad of $71,420, declared the railroad officials. The passenger business, they said, now averages about two per day, revenues last year totaling $4,697. Mail revenues last year totaled $60,018, and express and baggage revenues amounted to $6,565.

Operating cost of the train last year totaled $142,932.

The post office department several months ago announced plans to change its mail contracts from the trains to motor transportation. Loss of the mail contract will cause too great a deficit for the railroad to sustain, the Santa Fe officials said.

Application to discontinue the trains will be filed with the railroad commission this week, the railroad men told a Herald representative. Hearing should be set for sometime in the next several weeks.

Dr. W. A. Pattillo Elected President By Chiropractors

Dr. William A. Pattillo of Hamlin was elected president of District 7 of the Texas State Chiropractic Association during the group's regular bi-monthly meeting held in Coleman last Sunday. Other new officers are: Dr. Bettye J. Shipman of Sweetwater, vice president; Dr. L. C. Ranken of Miles, secretary; Dr. A. M. Fischer of Coleman, Dr. Jim Wolfe of Abilene and Dr. G. L. McInturf of Abilene, district directors.

Thirty-four doctors of chiropractic attended the meeting in Coleman with Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Fischer of that city as hosts. Area towns represented were Abilene, Ballinger, Brady, Brownwood, Coleman, Cisco, Colorado City, Eden, Goldthwaite, Hamlin, Merkel, Miles, San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Reports on district council posture contests were given by Dr. J. C. Shipman of Abilene and Dr. B. R. LaMance of San Angelo. Dr. R. E. ## Minimum of 30 Merchants Urged To Start Program

Formal sign-up of participating merchants for the Hamlin Trade Buck program of business promotion is scheduled tomorrow (Friday) morning at the Ferguson Theater. A minimum of 30 retail merchants is set in order to implement the program, according to Joe Hudspeth, chairman of the retail trade committee of the Hamlin Board of Community Development, which is inaugurating the plan. Other members of the committee are Gene Prewitt and Willard Jones.

The Trade Buck plan previously was approved by the BCD board of directors. Two meetings of merchants likewise had discussed and approved the general program. Alterations in the original plan have been made, Hudspeth points out, in order to simplify the participation by all merchants of the community.

The plan is designed to replace stamp and other premium programs of trade promotion by a simpler, more universal use of Trade Bucks, to be issued for purchases by participating merchants. The Trade Bucks can be used to purchase any merchandise, make payments on account, down payments on any purchase at any participating business establishment. Redemption of Trade Bucks would not be confined to certain premiums, and can be redeemed on the spot at any time, it is pointed out.

All merchants of the town are urged to attend the meeting Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Bobby Norton Named College Student VP

Bobby Norton, son of Rev. and Mrs. Joe Norton of Hamlin, student at Nazarene College at Bethany, Oklahoma, has been elected vice president of the student body of the school for next year. Nominations were made by the faculty and Student Council, and election was by the whole student body.

Some of Bobby's duties will be the planning of student activities, including an all-school get-together, homecoming, Christmas banquet and Valentine banquet.

Less Than Fifth Of Voters Ballot In Vital Election

With less than one-fifth of the potential voters in the Hamlin Independent School District participating, the proposal to raise the maximum tax rate for school purposes to $1.50 or the $100 property valuation from the present $1.25 rate passed by a vote of 117 for to 80 against, according to the official canvass of votes by members of the board of trustees Monday evening.

The Saturday voting, held at the business office of Hamlin High School, was a surprise and a disappointment to officials of the school board for the reason that so few eligible voters participated. They had hoped that nearly a record vote would be cast in the election.

The voting was the first one on a school tax rate for the district in many years. Rising school costs and decreasing revenues for school purposes had made the vote on the issue necessary. The election was called by the board after petitions bearing 58 names were presented several weeks ago.

Members of the school board announced Monday night following the special meeting of the group that the tax rate for the 1958 tax year will be announced as soon as the tax rolls are completed, which should be within the next several days. The board had declared prior to the election that, although the vote would be on raising the maximum rate to $1.50, probably only a rate of $1.35 may be necessary to meet current budget needs.

Hamlin Band Plays In Final Appearance At Baseball Opening

Hamlin Pied Piper Band helped to herald the opening of the official Little League baseball season Saturday evening. The musicians were set up in concert formation just inside the gates of the Hamlin Pony League park and played several marches before the proceedings got underway. Part of the Junior High School Band played with them.

Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook threw out the first ball to start play.

This was the last performance of the year for the band. During the past year the band has played for more than 25 public performances and has had a remarkably successful year, having been topped at contests by only one AA band in the district.

Director Mac Fullerton has worked hard with the band, and the band, in turn, has given him something in which to be proud.

GOC Unit to Observe Armed Forces Day

PROPER INSECT CONTROL MEANS MORE COTTON

There are a number of excellent reasons why cotton growers of the Hamlin territory and the rest of the Cotton Belt should go all-out to control insects this year, for it will pay big dividends to take the necessary steps to see that a full crop goes to the gin rather than down some "bug's belly."

First, we are assured a minimum price of at least $190 per bale (middling inch) for lint and seed in 1958. The government loan programs insure the grower this amount. Cotton can sell higher but no lower than the present supports for lint and seed.

The sub-soil moisture is the best in years. The experts all say that sub-soil moisture is adequate to insure a better-than-average crop. With timely rains on non-irrigated land, a record breaking acre yield should be made.

Cotton insects can be counted on to be a limiting factor in production if they are not controlled. There have been plenty of host plants for the thrips, aphid, flea hopper, bollworm, etc. to hibernate in or feed on the past winter and this spring. Even though the carryover of boll weevils and pink bollworms is moderate, the fact remains that there is plenty of moisture for cotton plants to grow and fruit during June. This is a critical month for these insects to build up. With favorable fruiting and growing conditions for cotton, conditions will also be favorable for the build-up of bollworms, boll weevils and other insects. The grower must, therefore, control insects or have them take a terrific toll from this year's crop.

Another loss that will be costly is lower grades caused by insect "spots." This often amounts to over $25 per bale. In many cases the cost of insect control is more than paid for by the reduction in "spots" alone.

"Our advice to cotton growers," declares C. B. Spencer, chairman of the Cotton Production Committee of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, "is to make up your mind now to control insects and get ready. Study the 'Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects.' Select the poison to be used and have it on hand. Check and have a sprayer or duster ready to go. Then, don't 'fiddle' around and make excuses while insects are stealing your crop."

Farm Numbers Decreasing

U. S. farms are decreasing in number and increasing in size. Farms in Texas are no exception to the general rule. There are now approximately 304,000 farms in Texas compared to 500,000 in 1931, the year in which farms in this state reached their peak in number.

The comparison is based on revised estimates of census figures up to 1955, as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1910, Texas farms numbered 410,000, according to the USDA report which gives number of farms by states for each year since then.

While numbers of farms have been decreasing, investment per farm has gone up, averaging $27,000 this year, according to other Department of Agriculture research.

Nationally, the total acreage of cropland harvested in 1957 is about the same as in 1940. But the size of farms has risen about 40 per cent since that time and output per farm is up 74 per cent. Farm output per man hour has more than doubled, and the average farm worker now produces enough food and fiber for himself and 20 others.

The Passing of Time

The longer we live, the faster time goes. Time is like a ball rolling down hill. With each yard its speed increases.

The reason for this becomes clear if we recall how full and long the days seem when we are placed in a new environment. The first few days of a vacation, if we go to a strange place, seem longer than the next two weeks.

In the early years of life, the senses are hourly stimulated by new experiences. Gradually, however, these senses are blunted and the days fade into one another, leaving almost no impression on our intellect. Birthdays come so fast that we lose the count.

Schopenhauer's reflections on this subject led him to lay down the rule that the length of any given year in a person's lifetime is in direct proportion to the number of times it will divide our whole life. At the age of fifty the year appears to us only one-tenth as long as it did at the age of five; at the age of sixty the fraction is reduced to one-twelfth; in other words, the fifth year is twelve times as long as the sixtieth year.

Schopenhauer contends that the time of boredom, therefore, is youth and not old age. Children are so thoroughly alive that they need constant occupation or they are miserable. To them on life's hill is like a key. In later years the days fly so fast that the old man is hardly aware that he is out of bed before he discovers that the time has come to go to bed. Is it consolation or regret?

Plain Horse Sense

"All in all, this year will likely be one of continuing world tensions. A quarreling Congress with charges and counter-charges for political strategy will probably create an area of imbalance and uncertainty..."

"There is ample capital in America and ample know-how to meet whatever confronts us, provided people get over their 'jitters.' They always have in the past, even when confronted by world wars big and little, and it is the writer's considered opinion such will be the case again in 1958."—E. C. Sammons, president of U. S. National Bank of Portland, Oregon.

Editorial of the Week

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING BASIS

All business enterprises, small or large, are essentially identical. In all dealings between management and workers, that is a point that must be kept in focus. Too often, it is ignored or overlooked in bargaining. What is the essential identity?

Well, let's put it this way. Suppose that Walter Reuther opens a small one-man grocery store. He is in business primarily to make a living. He finds that he must have a general handy-man to help. He hires X at $50 a week, which is all that the business can afford. After two or three months, X decides that the pay is insufficient for himself and family. Is it incumbent on Reuther, who can afford no more, to pay X more? Should he remain in business at a loss to himself to assure X a job at pay that satisfies him?

Looked at from any angle, this is the basis of all enterprise. Each is a business of one or more persons. Fair return to ownership, whether of individual or stockholders, is the initial consideration. Otherwise, there is no business. It must be the basis of collective bargaining.

Beyond this, in both sound practice and justice, management owes a fair return for fair service. Management and labor are partners in the sense that, unless the enterprise pays its way, neither has a job. The basic consideration on management's side should be that, subject to earning power of the concern, specific employment should be paid at a fair rate.

Under normal conditions, that should be in terms of real dollar value. It is only when business earnings are sufficient to justify that the worker can receive incentive rewards. Sensible profit sharing is fairly generally recognized today by business and industry. But it does not pre-suppose that holding a job makes every worker an actual partner and stockholder.—The Dallas Morning News.

Hamlin High School's relay team composed of James Burkhardt, Don Kelly, Glenn Smith and Joe Don Hymar, won third place in last week's state Inter-scholastic 4x400 meter relay held at Austin.

Congressman Burleson Says Clamor For Less Tax, More Spending Is Idiotic

Most heard around Washington these days is "tax less" and "spend more," asserts Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release to The Herald. His news letter continues:

Either of these taken separately may make some sense, but taken together it is near idiotic.

To cut taxes without cutting government spending is, to put it mildly, a disregard and an injustice to children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

From the political standpoint it does, however, sound good to talk about cutting taxes and, at the same time, spend money for every cause and purpose anyone can dream up.

It follows the proposition mentioned before in this column that all blessings come from Washington, and that government can cure all ills.

And, speaking of children, a recent survey of 6,000 high school students over the United States indicates that 25 per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls believe that government should control basic industries such as power, steel and railroads. The poll among high school students reveals that most seniors believe that business is not good for the country. Fifty-six per cent declared that the government could eliminate economic problems by taking from the rich and giving to the poor. Sixty-one per cent favored government censorship and control of press, radio and TV.

This strongly suggests that we are not imbuing the youth of this country with the principles of free enterprise, which, of course, is basic to our economic system.

While we are talking of better education in the sciences and mulling over the many proposals to improve the deficiencies found in this field, it seems pretty obvious that somebody should be doing something about teaching basic philosophies which have made us the greatest country and the greatest people on earth.

Hybernica Grace taught history and economics in Anson High School. Dr. Earl Brown taught economics in Abilene Christian College, and Dr. W. Asbury Stephenson taught economics and politics in Hardin-Simmons University. Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, author of "Divided We Stand," taught the same in the University of Texas. All these teachers were my instructors.

If it could be summed up in one sentence, the idea in their teaching was that every individual American should be guaranteed the right by his government to earn and accomplish that which he wishes to accomplish by his own ability, initiative and energy, so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others.

Milton E. Crow Takes Part in Exercises by Big Navy Maneuver

Milton E. Crow, fire control technician seaman of the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crow of 836 Southeast Avenue A in Hamlin, aboard the support aircraft carrier USS Princeton, is taking part in "Strikex," a U. S. First Fleet striking force exercise being held off the coast of Southern California.

Nineteen ships, plus carrier and land-based aircraft from 15 squadrons are taking 12,000 personnel into the operation.

The ships and aircraft at sea form the fast moving "blue" attacking forces which are launching raids against simulated targets on the West Coast. "Orange" defensive forces consist of Navy attack, fighter and patrol aircraft and submarines based on the West Coast.

Striking force exercises are designed to give advanced training to personnel preparing to deploy to the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

THIS IS the correct picture of Ginger Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Johnson, Hamlin High School Junior, who recently was named delegate to Girls' State at Austin. The Herald last week inadvertently used another picture.

WEED CONTROL VITAL. Weeds often cause a tremendous reduction in pasture and hay yields, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Their control is essential for best returns. The methods of control he mentioned are prevention, cultivation, mowing and chemical control.

Motorists Urged to Support Campaign to Slow-Down-and-Live

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, called on Texans this week to give their full support to the upcoming slow-down-and-live campaign which will be sponsored throughout the state by TSA between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

"Most traffic accidents are the result of human failure. Drivers simply do not follow traffic regulations as they should," the safety expert said. "If we want to cut traffic deaths and injuries, we must halt speeding and other forms of carelessness, recklessness and thoughtlessness on streets and highways."

Musick urged citizens to drive within speed limits and to brush up on other traffic laws so they may follow them to the letter. He said that the only solution to the problem of traffic deaths and injuries is voluntary compliance by drivers. The principal aim of this year's stepped up campaign, he said, will be to sell the public on safer traffic conduct, especially in regard to fast driving.

Meet the Vauxhall, a masterpiece of British genius for practical living. In spite of its trim silhouette there's actually room for the average family and all of their luggage. Fuel economy is a miracle of austerity, and it manoeuvres with a close-coupled ease that lets you park virtually anywhere. All this, plus bulldog ruggedness and the classic good taste of its styling, makes this a truly extraordinary car... and one you really must see!

"Cotton: Nature's Wonder Fiber" was the title of an interesting and informative film on the production, harvesting, milling and manufacture of cotton which was shown at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

Although most of the attendants at the luncheon have lived in the Cotton Belt all their lives, the colored film gave new angles to the cotton industry. Close-up pictures of plants actually growing, blooming and producing cotton proved especially interesting.

Following harvest of the cotton, processes of ginning, sampling, grading, shipping and milling the cotton were shown, including detailed pictures of spinning, weaving, dyeing and printing of various kinds of cloth.

The film was provided by R. L. McClung of the oil mill. Forthcoming District 2-E convention at Fort Worth, on May 30 and 31, was stressed by President Willard Jones. Delegates to the meeting will be named soon.

Plans for the semi-annual ladies' night were approved by the board of directors for Tuesday evening, June 10, at the guest house. Officers for the new club year beginning July 1 will be installed at that meeting.

Guests at the Tuesday luncheon included Harry Hart of Chicago, Louis Best of California, Woodie Scott and R. A. Guthrie.

THE CHANGING SCENE

THE BUILT-IN RANGE ISN'T A NEW IDEA. 100 YEARS AGO COAL AND WOOD BURNING STOVES WERE BUILT INTO WALLS.

THE BUILT-IN OF 1958, HOWEVER, IS A FAR CRY FROM THE OLD STOVE OF 100 YEARS AGO. AUTOMATIC LP-GAS FEATURES MAKE COOKING A PLEASURE RATHER THAN A CHORE.

New Official Highway Map of Texas Shows Many New Features and Data

It's here! It's new! It's free!

The Texas Highway Department this week released the big new 1958 official highway travel map. Maps may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas, or at the highway district offices and Travel Information Bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The official highway travel map is used by all state and governmental agencies in Texas for determining highway distances, mileages, zones and like information. The same map is used by Texas tourists seeking roads to recreational and historical attractions throughout the state. The reverse side of the map reflects in full color some of the outstanding scenic and recreational facilities in Texas.

Texas' new 1958 travel map is the answer to today's demand for more and more information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over 7,000,000 just 10 years ago to its present estimated population of more than 9,000,000 is reflected by the information shown.

The number of cities and towns indicated on the 1948 map was 567. Today there are 1,812—an increase of 1,245. State and U. S. highways have been increased by 2,026 miles, and farm-to-market roads from 620 miles to 11,126 miles—a 16,506-mile increase. The map reflects a total of 43,292 miles of highways.

Roadside parks, long cherished by Texas highway users, were shown on the '48 map. Today 1,026 roadside parks are pointed out as pleasant stopping places. Divided highways also show a startling jump in the 10-year period. In 1948 there were 110 miles of divided road shown. Now there are 1,007 miles marked on the map with the black bands and red center indicating divided highway miles.

City Fire Losses More Than Double Last Year's to Date

Fire losses in the City of Hamlin so far this year are nearly three times what they were this time last year, according to a tabulation of statistics made recently by officials of the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department.

To date in 1958 insured fire losses have amounted to $9,384.81 as compared with losses of $3,500 for the entire year of 1957.

Statistical information furnished by the department shows that the volunteer firemen have answered eight alarms in the city, three alarms in Fisher County and one alarm in Jones County since the first of the year.

The firemen attended the spring convention at Rotan. The woman hook-up team of John Steele and Don Elmore placed second in the two-man race.

Victor Ortiz, chaplain of the Hamlin department, was elected to a full term as chaplain of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association, having served in the unexpired term of the previous chaplain, who moved out of the association territory last year.

The department has purchased a pick-up truck with a body to be equipped as an emergency rescue unit. The equipment will include first aid supplies, oxygen resuscitator, stretcher, portable light plant, etc.

The firemen have recently begun a first aid course. It is the approved Red Cross course of 10 hours and is being taught by E. W. (Andy) Anderson, a qualified instructor, who is line chief with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Nazarene Church Sets Services for Pentecost Week

During Pentecost Week this year over 4,500 simultaneous holiness revivals will be sponsored by Churches of the Nazarene throughout the world. Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin church, announces a holiness convention will be conducted here May 21, 23, 24 and 25.

Special speaker for the meeting is Rev. Lonnie Voorhies of Eastland. Rev. Voorhies has been a successful pastor and evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene and the Evangelical Methodist Church. His preaching is sound and scriptural in every way, declares Hanna.

Music for the services will be provided by the local choir and musicians under the direction of Odean Murphree. Services will begin nightly at 7:30 and at 10:45 Sunday morning. Sunday School is at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. There will be no service Thursday evening due to the commencement exercises.

The Church of the Nazarene emphasizes the truth of scriptural holiness. In this emphasis it is Wesleyan in theology. Rev. Hanna urges all who are interested in the Biblical presentation of this deeper Christian experience to attend these services.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Leaders of the Texas cotton farming industry, long plagued by regional flooding, have joined hands. Object: To try to stave off a drastic cut in the 1959 acreage allotments.

Unless the present farm law is amended by Congress this session, the national cotton acreage allotment would drop automatically from the presently authorized national quota of 17,500,000 acres to approximately 14,200,000 acres in 1959.

Spokesmen from all the state's cotton producing areas met in Austin to hammer out an alternate proposal. Their plan:

1. Retain the 17,500,000 national acreage allotment.
2. Give farmers a choice between planting higher acreage at lower price supports or lower acreage with higher supports.
3. Abolish the present soil bank program.

It was the first time, said leaders, that this Texas industry had been so well unified behind a program. In previous years, East and West Texas growers have been at loggerheads over quotas.

Texas cotton men say that neither they nor the economy as a whole can stand the threatened 20 to 25 per cent slash.

Of the 17,500,000 acres now allotted to cotton over the nation, Texas has 7,474,000, giving the state a hefty stake in the future of the industry.

A Stitch in Time.—Thrifty farm families who can a good portion of their yearly produce will probably have the best chances of survival if nuclear bombs ever should fall on Texas.

These and other facts bearing on the key role of rural and small town citizens in civil defense were pointed up as Texans participated in the nation-wide practice exercise "Operation Alert."

For two days officials and representatives of agencies making up the State Civil Defense Council sat in the man-bomb-bomb-proof "Survivor Center" in the Department of Public Safety building.

Practicing five cities had been hit, they practiced coping with the gigantic problems that would arise—maintaining government, re-establishing transportation, communication and power facilities, providing food, shelter and medical attention for victims, evacuating radio-active fallout.

Small towns and rural areas would serve as reception centers for evacuees from target cities.

Providing food is regarded as especially crucial. "If all transportation were knocked out, Texas would have only 14 days' supply of food," says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill.

Garden plots and crops in the field might be ruined by fall-out. Frozen foods might spoil for lack of electricity.

Hence, if worst comes to worst, a well stocked pantry is seen as an ace in the hole.

HOME-MADE COMPOST.

Home-made compost will greatly improve the structure of garden soil and result in better production, according to B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist. Grass clippings, leaves, weeds and plant residues are a few materials that he says will make suitable compost.

The commission plan of city government was first used at Galveston as an emergency measure after the 1900 flood.

Taxpayers Warned To Attach W-2 Forms To Income Returns

Taxpayers who worked for more than one employer during 1957 must be sure to attach to their federal income tax returns for the year all their W-2 withholding tax certificates, A. E. Fogle Jr., of Internal Revenue Service at Abilene, warned this week.

"Many people work for several business firms during a year," Fogle said. "Generally, such firms will give employees who have left their employment proper certificates soon after they leave the company. These certificates must be used in computing tax status at the end of the year."

"Frequently we receive returns lacking two or three such withholding forms. Checking against our own copies of the W-2s furnished us by employers reveals tax discrepancies. Short term workers who have never received W-2s from firms by which they were employed should request the mat once; those who have lost them should ask for duplicates."

Bunyan Payne Shown In Navy Dress Review

A Hamlin sailor was pictured recently in a picture of the graduating class of the Naval Air Station at Oceana, Virginia. He was Bunyan Payne, chief instructor of radar of the guided missile service unit No. 43. The picture was made last month in front of the station administration building, as the executive officer of NAS Oceana, Commander H. M. Pugh, inspected the group, dressed in dress white. Letters of commendation were sent to parents of the graduates.

Payne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Payne of Hamlin. He married the former Verna Mae Sipe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Sipe. He has been in the service for 17 years.

County Ministers Attend Meeting on Soil Stewardship

Fourteen ministers from the churches in Hamlin, Anson, Funston, Ericksdahl and Stamford attended a soil stewardship meeting sponsored by the California Creek Soil Conservation District last Friday morning at Stamford.

After breakfast, colored slides of conservation work being done in the district were shown to the group. L. W. Stenholm, chairman of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, gave a short history of the district, its objectives and accomplishments.

Following the program, the group made a field trip to observe conservation on the ground. The preachers saw wheat following blue panic grass in rotation and vetch being grown as a soil improving crop on the Hiram Olson farm near Avoca. The next stop was the L. W. Stenholm farm, where second year sorghum alum grass was growing. The last stop was the B. O. Youngquist farm, where rye and vetch were being grown in rows for soil improvement. The ministers were shown the advantages of a good soil conservation program.

Ministers present were: Marshall Rhee, Newton Starnes and Elmer Sprecher of Stamford; Calvin Bailey, Victor Ortiz and Woodruff McHugh of Hamlin; Furman Cauthern, J. C. Willett, Bill Hawthorne, James N. Easterwood and Aubrey Haynes of Anson; H. J. Haterius of Ericksdahl; M. Shatto of Sagerton; and Bill Beatty of Funston.

Others present were: L. W. Stenholm of Avoca, Eldridge Nix of Anson and Bruno Kupatt of Sagerton, all members of the board of supervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District; and Charles Hewitt, technician of the Soil Conservation Service.

Most Lakes of Region Hold Good Supplies Of Water, Says Board

Although very little rain that produced running water to fill lakes and tanks in the Hamlin territory has fallen in recent weeks, water level in Paint Creek Lake northeast of Stamford, from which Hamlin gets much of its domestic water supply, continues to hold up well. The lake at the end of April held 76 per cent of its capacity of 60,000 acre feet, or about 45,100 acre feet, according to the monthly report of the Texas Board of Water Engineers.

Other lakes of the area also held good supplies. Fort Phantom Hill was full, Possum Kingdom Lake near Graford held 89 per cent of capacity. Lake J. B. Thomas near Snyder had 91 per cent; Oak Creek near Blackwell held 100 per cent of capacity.

There is no power on earth that can neutralize the influence of a high, pure, simple and useful life.—Booker T. Washington.

Record Keeping by Farmers Being Urged For Maximum Profits

Unpredictable Texas weather has brought heavy rains and low soil temperatures making it necessary for many farmers to re-plant this spring.

Two management precautions should be observed by such farmers who want to make maximum profits, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

First, he advises, take time to find good quality seed. Don't stake the rest of your season's investment on questionable seed stock. Purchase seed bearing the certified blue tag, giving assurance of highest quality.

The next suggestion Bates gives is keep records of these added expenses. These abnormal expenditures may be deducted on income tax, but verifications may be necessary. Keep an account of such expenses in a record book. Too, invoices may be kept to provide a "double check."

Spend some time on your farm records every week, advises Bates, and make certain no deductible expense items are overlooked.

Several Changes Made in Provisions of Wheat Acreage Allotment Law in 1958

Several major changes have recently been made in the wheat acreage allotment law, and many wheat producers in the Hamlin area are vitally concerned. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee offices of the region have asked The Herald to print the following explanations:

U. S. Department of Agriculture explained the effect of new legislation under Public Law 85-366, enacted April 4, 1958, on the computation of future acreage allotments for wheat.

The general effect of the new law is to alter the past practice under which the farm that exceeded its wheat allotment received credit for the entire harvested wheat acreage for the year determining future allotments. Under the new legislation, one set of requirements will apply to the 1958 wheat crop and another to 1959 and subsequent crops, as follows:

For the 1958 crop—

Individual farm allotments: A farmer who over-produces his 1955 wheat allotment will receive credit for the 1958 farm base acreage (adjusted four-year average) as 1958 history, just as the farmer who complies with his allotment does. However, he cannot receive credit for more than the base acreage, regardless of acreage produced. These legal provisions deal only with wheat acreage history and have no effect on marketing quota provisions. Any allotment in 1958 will be subject to marketing quotas. A producer who has over-planted his 1958 allotment has until the disposal date for his area to decide whether or not to dispose of his excess acreage. The amendment does not affect producers who have obtained a feed wheat exemption. The provisions of the application signed by such producers that none of the wheat acreage in excess of the wheat allotment will be considered in establishing future farm wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect.

State and county allotments: In computing future state and county allotments, 1958 wheat acreage in excess of farm allotments will not be counted. Thus, excess farm wheat acreage will not produce an increase in the state or county allotments in future years. For the state and county calculations the 1958 acreage history of a farmer who exceeds his allotment will be the allotment. In other words, a non-complying farm's wheat history will be listed at one figure for purposes of the farm allotment computation and at another for purposes of computing state and county allotments.

For 1959 and subsequent years: Individual farm allotments: If the acreage allotment is exceeded, the farm's wheat history for the year will be the allotment. To receive credit for the base acreage as history a farmer who exceeds his allotment may store the excess wheat under marketing quota regulations or deliver it to the government. Farmers who plant within their allotments will continue to get credit not only for acreage harvested but also for the acreage diverted from wheat under the allotment program. Thus, over a period of years, the producer who exceeds his allotment will accumulate a smaller acreage history than the farmer who complies with his allotment.

Achievement Tests Being Given Students Of Three City Schools

Achievement tests for students in the elementary and junior high school grades of Hamlin schools have been underway for several days, school officials report.

Fourth and fifth grade students of Hamlin Elementary School were given the tests last week. Pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grade were given the tests last week and first of this week. Students in the elementary grades at DePriest Colored School are being given the tests this week, according to Principal E. S. Morgan.

The tests, designed to give parents and others a summary of the all-around accomplishments of students' school work, include tests in social studies, health and safety, language, literature, spelling, science, mathematics reasoning, problems in mathematics, etc.

Leptospirosis Is Causing Losses in Livestock of State

Livestock raisers of the Hamlin area will be concerned with the release this week from Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton on the livestock disease, "leptospirosis." Once thought to be unimportant to the livestock industry, this disease is now known to be causing extensive losses.

Surveys conducted during 1956 and 1957 by the Texas state show the disease to be widespread in cattle and swine in the state. More than half of the herds tested had animals that were positive to the leptospira test. Sheep, goats and horses may also be affected, but the extent of the disease among these animals is unknown. Deer and several other types of wildlife suffer from the disease and may serve as a reservoir.

Leptospirosis has a wide range of symptoms that make a diagnosis in the field difficult. It may affect most of the animals in a herd without recognizable illness. On the other hand, there may be numerous abortions and up to five per cent death loss among grown animals. But usually the death losses are confined to calves and one out of three of those affected may succumb.

First symptoms, says the agent, are high temperature, coffee colored or blood tinged urine, and a sudden decrease in milk production. The milk may be viscid and yellow as in mastitis, but the udder will be firm and cool. Abortions may occur if the animal is in late pregnancy.

The membranes of the animal's eye and mouth become pale and take on a decidedly yellow color due to the extreme destruction of red blood cells.

Leptospirosis is relatively mild in swine except for its effect on the pregnant sow. She will often abort especially if in the last third of gestation. If not, part or all of the pigs may be born dead or die soon after birth. It may pass through a herd of feeder pigs without symptoms being observed.

County Agent Clayton emphasized the importance of calling a veterinarian immediately if leptospirosis is suspected in the herd. If treated early, most cases respond to some of the newer drugs. He states that observations by the Texas Experiment Station indicate considerable benefit from vaccination against this disease. The bacterin now available provides immunity in cattle and swine for a period of six months or more.

Rhoton, a machine gunner in the 28th's Company B, entered the Army in June, 1957, and completed his basic training at Fort Riley, Kansas. He arrived overseas last January.

Young Rhoton was graduated from Hamlin High School in 1957.

County Attorney Speaks on Youth's Future at Rotary

"Promise of Tomorrow for Our Youth" was the topic of discussion when Charlie Brownfield, county attorney, spoke at last Wednesday's weekly Rotary Club luncheon at the oil mill guest house.

The attorney declared that it is vital to the future of our county, state and nation that we provide companionship and guidance for the young people of today as they strive to withstand temptations and meet the problems of tomorrow.

Brownfield declared that we are to watch the signposts of inflation, communism and other factors that threaten the freedom, security and privileges of living in a democracy as we plan for the future of youths.

He cited the fact that such activities as Boy Scouting and Girl Scouting help to mold manhood and womanhood into our boys and girls.

Besides the speaker, other guests at last Wednesday's luncheon meeting were A. B. Youngblood of Abilene; Ed Darnell, Bob Martin and H. D. Norris of Sweetwater; K. K. Francis, Bob Hall and W. M. Blackburn of Stamford; and Georganna Fitzgerald, who was club sweetheart and pianist for the day.

Traffic Signs Are Guide-Posts for Driving in Safety

"Traffic signs are guide-posts for a safe driver," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said this week as he discussed the importance of observing traffic signals and markings.

"Thinking drivers are aided by these signs," he said, "because they know that they have been placed in most areas of danger to forewarn motorists and pedestrians of traffic hazards."

Musick advised motorists to learn the sign shapes and know the meaning of each one, so that they can be recognized at once, even at a distance. The six signs are:

Octagon, the stop sign, is yellow with black letters. It means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding.

Rectangle, white with black lettering, states the law, including speed limits, parking regulations and turning and passing laws.

Diamond, warning, yellow with black lettering, warns of school zones, curves, side roads, intersections and other hazardous areas ahead.

Round, yellow with black X and RR. This identifies a railroad-highway crossing.

Crossbuck, the tall white railroad crossing sign stands at the crossing itself.

Triangle, yellow with black lettering and means yield right-of-way. This sign requires drivers to give the right-of-way to cross traffic by slowing down and being ready to stop if necessary.

Musick cautioned pedestrians to know and obey all signs, signals and markings directing pedestrian movements. These include traffic lights and crosswalk lines at intersections.

ASC Has 1958 Cards For Wheat Marketing

Fisher County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has made arrangements for issuing wheat marketing cards for the 1958 crop of wheat. Marketing cards are available to producers who do not have a farm marketing excess and will be delivered to producers at the Fisher County ASC office in Roby.

If it is not convenient for a producer to call by the ASC office for his wheat marketing card, he may receive one by requesting the county committee to mail it to him, office manager states.

The Herald has carbon paper.

Exploration of Outer Space Vital to Future of World, Says Senator Johnson

Legislation to create a federal agency with the specific responsibility of guiding the nation in the exploration of outer space is the subject of hearings now being conducted by the Senate special committee on space and astronautics, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his weekly news letter to The Herald. His release continues: I am chairman of this committee, and in opening the hearings I stated their purpose in these words:

"What is before us now is not a question of whether we should begin the orderly exploration of space, but rather, the question of how such exploration may best be directed and initiated. We are past the point of studying sketches. It is time to get the blueprints drawn and start pouring concrete for the foundation."

The primary legislation before the committee is a bill drafted by advisers to the president. It is my expectation that public examination and discussion of the terms of the bill can contribute many strengthening recommendations. Seldom, if ever, have a Congress and an administration faced a more challenging task.

What we do now may very well decide, in a large sense, what our nation is to be 20 years and 50 years and 100 years from now—and our decisions now can have the greatest influence upon determining whether the world moves toward a millennium of peace or plunges recklessly toward destruction.

Space affects all of us and all that we do, in our private lives, in our business, in our education and in our government. As Americans we shall succeed or fail in relation to our national success in incorporating the exploration and utilization of space into all aspects of our society and the enrichment of all phases of our life on this earth.

Outer space is a new frontier. It is waiting to be developed. It holds opportunities that can hardly be dreamed of today.

If these opportunities are to be fully realized, our nation must call on every citizen of the country for maximum contributions. The total resources of our own Texas and Southwest must be totally developed—soundly, expeditiously, effectively.

The 10 years immediately ahead, in my opinion, will see the most rapid expansion of our economy of any comparable period in history. The industrial capacity of Texas has increased four times more during the last 20 years than during all the previous years of the state's history. It is exciting to think what the next 25 years will bring.

There is work enough for all in the big "and before us." That is why I feel so strongly that we must continue our efforts, government and private enterprise combining their strength, to combat the business slump and provide jobs for people who need them. This is no time for lagging or half-hearted endeavor.

Let's push ahead!

One of the most shocking and unusual pictures ever to be filmed from an actual life story, "The Three Faces of Eve," a Twentieth Century-Fox cinemascope production, playing Saturday only at the Ferguson and Drive-In Theaters, stars a screen newcomer, Joanne Woodward as Eve. David Wayne and Lee J. Cobb are in supporting roles.

Miss Woodward, a Hollywood import from New York and the famed Actor's Studio, scored an immediate success as the drab Georgia housewife who had become not one, but three distinct persons inhabiting a single body.

Produced and directed by an original case history by two Augusta, Georgia psychiatrists, the story concerns a rare case of "multiple personality," a phenomenon of unique medical significance.

The audience sits spellbound as Miss Woodward captures to the last detail the drab, mousey Eve White, the sexy, provocative Eve Black, her "other" self, and the mature, poised Jane, a personality born of the struggle between the other two.

Using only her plastic, sensitive face, Miss Woodward, brilliantly supported by Wayne as her dull, unimaginative husband, and Lee J. Cobb as the doctor who helps her to a new life, thrilled, shocked and holds fascinated the audiences.

Citizens Urged to Contact SS Office About Payments

Residents of the Hamlin area were urged this week by R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager, to get in touch with the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration for information regarding payments under the old age and survivors' insurance program.

Tuley stated that his office encounters numerous instances of applicants for benefits who have relied on erroneous or misleading advice received from friends or relatives. As a result they have mistaken ideas about requirements for social security payments and the amount of the payments which they will receive. In several recent cases failure to obtain correct information before reaching retirement age has had serious effects on the applicant's plans for retirement, he added.

The Abilene office of the Social Security Administration receives all applications for retirement and survivors' payments from residents of 15 surrounding counties. In addition, the office receives applications in and around Taylor County for disability payments from qualified workers 50 years of age or more and applications to "freeze" the wage records of disabled workers under age 50. As of May 8, 1938, the Abilene office had forwarded 2,513 applications for retirement or survivors' payments and 297 applications for disability payments.

Informational material regarding all phases of the social security insurance program is available and a representative of the office is normally available to meet with groups desiring a speaker.

Tuley suggested that all students who plan to work during the summer vacation, and who have not obtained a social security card, do so immediately. Application blanks for cards can be obtained at the Abilene office or at the post office nearest their homes.

SIDE LIGHT to Saturday's election on the proposal to raise the maximum tax rate from $1.25 to $1.50 on the $100 property valuation was the fact that two of the three people voting in the election had no children of school age.

This fact was disturbing to school officials and members of the school board, inasmuch as it reflected unconcern or lethargy on the part of parents of school children in the affairs of their school.

Of course, the fact that only about one-fifth of the potential eligible voters in the expansive school district participated in the voting likewise was disturbing to school leaders.

REV. JUDSON PRINCE of Fort Worth, pastor of the Oakhurst Baptist Church, who recently conducted a very successful revival meeting at the First Baptist Church in Hamlin, was so slouch in telling yarns during his stay. For example, he told a group of friends:

"My grandmother was a staunch member of the Methodist Church and was zealous of its reputation," Prince declared. "One day one of her little sons was punished for an infraction of home rules. As the youngster was sat down for a period of reflection on his misdeeds, he gouted rebelliously.

"When I grow up I'm going to rob a bank," declared the defiant youth. His mother paid him no mind. "When I grow up I'm going to kill people," he continued in tirade. His mother still made no reply. "When I get big I'm going to join the Baptist Church," he further asserted. To which his mother quickly replied, "Now, see here, young man, that's going too far with your threats."

CHARLIE BROWNFIELD, county attorney, after he was presented as the speaker at last Wednesday's Rotary Club luncheon at the oil mill guest house by his neighbor, W. M. Blackburn of Stamford, who said he had been cited for valor for action along the Italian front in World War II, responded by the assertion that the decorations were passed out to practically every soldier who reported for breakfast the morning following a particularly crucial invasion.

Brownfield told the story of an old friend of his, C. F. Cook, who was late for school one morning years ago. Upon being called to the carpet by his principal, Cook is reported to have said:

"My dad, who has the habit of sleeping in raw, called it all," he explained.

"How's that?" inquired the principal.

"Well, about 2:00 o'clock in the morning Ma heard something in chicken house, w-a-k-e, Pa and sent him out with his shotgun. As he approached the chicken house cautiously, old Tag, our dog, put his cold nose to Pa's rear—and we have all been pickin' chickens ever morning, and that's the reason I'm late."

SOME MORE of those sagely barbs of Hal Cochran, one of our favorite writers, will add spice to your reading:

It's okay to guess the age of a woman, but before you tell her, drop off a few years.

If you acquire a bald head, men, keep it under your hat come hot weather.

Fools rush in where the sign says, "Stop, Look and Listen."

A music teacher says 27 voices are only twice as loud as one, and that must be the one in the bathtub.

We pity the poor moths this winter, considering the size of some bathing suits.

Frowning all the time loses you a lot of friends. Why not try facing the situation with a smile?

If getting high up in the world makes you look down on others, we hope you don't.

Put all of your family arguments end to end and they'll reach very few sane decisions.

YOU CAN'T TELL nowadays about the economic condition of the other fellow. For example, a Hamlin couple was discussing a neighbor couple the other day.

She—"I can't figure out the Smiths. They have no car, no piano, no TV, and she hasn't any jewelry or furs."

He—"They probably have some money."

PRETTY-ING UP—There may not be enough candles for Mrs. Amanda Harris' birthday cake, as she celebrated her one hundred fourteenth birthday in San Antonio at the Southton Convalescent Home, where she has been a resident since 1914. All other residents of the home who are able attended the party given by the Bexar County Women's Auxiliary representing county-operated hospitals.

Sante Fe Asking to Discontinue Trains

Doom of the last passenger train service for Hamlin is planned as soon as permission to discontinue the "doodle-bug" motor train of two cars now operating through Hamlin is approved by the Texas Railroad Commission.

This was the word passed to city officials and business men of Hamlin Tuesday when four high officials of the railroad were in Hamlin to discuss the proposed curtailment of service. Here for conferences Tuesday with Hamlin people were E. A. Tusha, division freight and passenger agent of San Angelo; F. E. Hanlon, general passenger agent of Amarillo;

Officials of the Hamlin Cemetery Association assert that they are waging the annual war against weeds and obnoxious grass at the Hamlin East Cemetery, endeavoring to keep the City of the Dead in presentable condition.

The association is operated on donations made by relatives of those buried there and others, and funds are sorely needed declare the officials. Donations may be made at the bank to Lennie Greenway, secretary of the association.

Dr. W. A. Pattillo Elected President By Chiropractors

Dr. William A. Pattillo of Hamlin was elected president of District 7 of the Texas State Chiropractic Association during the group's regular bi-monthly meeting held in Coleman last Sunday. Other new officers are: Dr. Bettye J. Shipman of Sweetwater, vice president; Dr. L. C. Benken of Miles, secretary; Dr. A. M. Fischer of Coleman, Dr. Jim Wolfe of Abilene and Dr. C. L. McInturf of Abilene, district directors.

Thirty-four doctors of chiropractic attended the meeting in Coleman with Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Fischer of that city as hosts. Area towns represented were Abilene, Ballinger, Brady, Brownwood, Coleman, Cisco, Colorado City, Eden, Goldthwaite, Hamlin, Merkel, Miles, San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Reports on district contest posture contests were given by Dr. J. C. Shipman of Abilene and Dr. B. R. LaMance of San Angelo. Dr. R. E. Capshaw and Dr. Elton Berkman gave reports from the association's state board of directors. The Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners had met and Dr. Joe Busby and Dr. C. E. Boush, members of that board, reported examinations had been given and several new licenses issued.

Minimum of 30 Merchants Urged To Start Program

Formal sign-up of participating merchants for the Hamlin Trade Buck program of business promotion is scheduled tomorrow (Friday) morning at the Ferguson Theater. A minimum of 30 retail merchants is set in order to implement the program, according to Joe Hudspeth, chairman of the retail trade committee of the Hamlin Board of Community Development, which is inaugurating the plan. Other members of the committee are Gene Prewitt and Willard Jones.

The Trade Buck plan previously was approved by the BCD board of directors. Two meetings of merchants likewise had discussed and approved the general program. Alterations in the original plan have been made, Hudspeth points out, in order to simplify the participation by all merchants of the community.

The plan is designed to replace stamp and other premium programs of trade promotion by a simpler, more universally used program that would give patrons a broader use of Trade Bucks, to be issued for purchases by participating merchants. The Trade Bucks can be used to purchase any merchandise, make payments on account, down payments on any purchase at any participating business establishment. Redemption of Trade Bucks would not be confined to certain premiums, and can be redeemed on the spot at any time, it is pointed out.

All merchants of the town are urged to attend the meeting Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Bobby Norton Named College Student VP

Bobby Norton, son of Rev. and Mrs. Joe Norton of Hamlin, student at Nazarene College at Bethany, Oklahoma, has been elected vice president of the student body of the school for next year. Nominations were made by the faculty and Student Council, and election was by the whole student body.

Some of Bobby's duties will be the planning of student activities, including an all-school get-together, homecoming, Christmas banquet and Valentine banquet.

Less Than Fifth Of Voters Ballot In Vital Election

With less than one-fifth of the potential voters in the Hamlin Independent School District participating, the proposal to raise the maximum tax rate for school purposes to $1.50 or the $100 property valuation from the present $1.25 rate passed by a vote of 117 for to 80 against, according to the official canvass of votes by members of the board of trustees Monday evening.

The Saturday voting, held at the business office of Hamlin High School, was a surprise and a disappointment to officials of the school board for the reason that so few eligible voters participated. They had hoped that nearly a record vote would be cast in the election.

The voting was the first one on a school tax rate for the district in many years. Rising school costs and decreasing revenues for school purposes had made the vote on the issue necessary. The election was called by the board after petitions bearing 58 names were presented several weeks ago.

Members of the school board announced Monday night following the special meeting of the group that the tax rate for the 1958 tax year will be announced as soon as the tax rolls are completed, which should be within the next several days. The board had declared prior to the election that, although the vote would be on raising the maximum rate to $1.50, probably only a rate of $1.35 may be necessary to meet current budget needs.

Hamlin Band Plays In Final Appearance At Baseball Opening

Hamlin Pied Piper Band helped to herald the opening of the official Little League baseball season Saturday evening. The musicians were set up in concert formation just inside the gates of the Hamlin Pony League park and played several marches before the proceedings got underway. Part of the Junior High School Band played with them.

Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook threw out the first ball to start play.

This was the last performance of the year for the band. During the past year the band has played for more than 25 public performances and has had a remarkably successful year, having been topped at contests by only one AA band in the district.

Director Mac Fullerton has worked hard with the band, and the band, in turn, has given him something in which to be proud.

GOC Unit to Observe Armed Forces Day

Hamlin unit of the Ground Observer Corps will participate in the observance of Armed Forces Day Saturday. It is announced by J. C. Burton Jr., coordinator for the local unit.

Cub Scouts Presented Awards at Meeting

At the last pack meeting Cubmaster J. E. McCoy presented awards to the following boys: Dennis Weaver, Mike Smith, Jimmy Hawkins, Buddy McClung, Larry McCoy, John Poe, Jerry Stewart, Tommy Ferguson, John Osbourn and Roger Bell.

Next pack meeting will be a family picnic at the City Park. This will be the last meeting until September, Cub Scout officials announce.

Birds have been known to undertake flight almost half-way around the world.

PROPER INSECT CONTROL MEANS MORE COTTON

There are a number of excellent reasons why cotton growers of the Hamlin territory and the rest of the Cotton Belt should go all-out to control insects this year, for it will pay big dividends to take the necessary steps to see that a full crop goes to the gin rather than down some "bug's belly."

First, we are assured a minimum price of at least $1.90 per bale (middling inch) for lint and seed in 1958. The government loan programs insure the grower this amount. Cotton can sell higher but no lower than the present supports for lint and seed.

The sub-soil moisture is the best in years. The experts all say that sub-soil moisture is adequate to insure a better-than-average crop. With timely rains on non-irrigated land, a record breaking acre yield should be made.

Cotton insects can be counted on to be a limiting factor in production if they are not controlled. There have been plenty of host plants for the thrips, aphid, flea hopper, bollworm, etc. to hibernate in or feed on the past winter and this spring. Even though the carryover of boll weevils and pink bollworms is moderate, the fact remains that there is plenty of moisture for cotton plants to grow and fruit during June. This is a critical month for these insects to build up. With favorable fruiting and growing conditions for cotton, conditions will also be favorable for the build-up of bollworms, boll weevils and other insects. The grower must, therefore, control insects or have them take a terrific toll from this year's crop.

Another loss that will be costly is lower grades caused by insect "spots." This often amounts to over $25 per bale. In many cases the cost of insect control is more than paid for by the reduction in "spots" alone.

"Our advice to cotton growers," declares C. B. Spencer, chairman of the Cotton Production Committee of the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, "is to make up your mind now to control insects and get ready. Study the 'Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects.' Select the poison to be used and have it on hand. Check and have a sprayer or duster ready to go. Then, don't 'fiddle' around and make excuses while insects are stealing your crop."

Farm Numbers Decreasing

U. S. farms are decreasing in number and increasing in size. Farms in Texas are no exception to the general rule. There are now approximately 321,000 farms in Texas compared to 505,000 in 1931, the year in which farms in this state reached their peak in number.

This comparison is based on revised estimates of census figures up to 1955, as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1910, Texas farms numbered 410,000, according to the USDA report which gives number of farms by states for each year since then.

While numbers of farms have been decreasing, investment per farm has gone up, averaging $27,000 this year, according to other Department of Agriculture research.

Nationally, the total acreage of cropland harvested in 1957 is about the same as in 1940. But the size of farms has risen about 40 per cent since that time and output per farm is up 74 per cent. Farm output per man hour has more than doubled, and the average farm worker now produces enough food and fiber for himself and 20 others.

The Passing of Time

The longer we live, the faster time goes. Time is like a ball rolling down hill. With each yard its speed increases.

The reason for this becomes clear if we recall how full and long the days seem when we are placed in a new environment. The first few days of a vacation, if we go to a strange place, seem longer than the next two weeks.

In the early years of life, the senses are hourly stimulated by new experiences. Gradually, however, these senses are blunted and the days fade into one another, leaving almost no impression on our intellect. Birthdays come so fast that we lose the count.

Schopenhauer's reflections on this subject led him to lay down the rule that the length of any given year in a person's lifetime is in direct proportion to the number of times it will divide our whole life. At the age of fifty the year appears to us only one-tenth as long as it did at the age of five; at the age of sixty the fraction is reduced to one-twelfth; in other words, the fifth year is twelve times as long as the sixtieth year.

Schopenhauer contends that the time of boredom, therefore, is youth and not old age. Children are so thoroughly alive that they need constant occupation or they are miserable. To them each day is like a day. In later years the days fly so fast that the old man is hardly aware that he is out of bed before he discovers that the time has come to go to bed. Is it a condition or a choice?—The Dallas Morning News.

Plain Horse Sense

"All in all, this year will likely be one of continuing world tensions. A quarreling Congress with charges and counter-charges for political strategy will probably create an area of imbalance and uncertainty..."

"There is ample capital in America and ample know-how to meet whatever confronts us, provided people get over their 'jitters.' They always have in the past, even when confronted by world wars big and little, and it is the writer's considered opinion such will be the case again in 1958."—E. C. Sammons, president of U. S. National Bank of Portland, Oregon.

Editorial of the Week

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING BASIS

All business enterprises, small or large, are essentially identical. In all dealings between management and workers, that is a point that must be kept in focus. Too often, it is ignored or overlooked in bargaining. What is the essential identity?

Well, let's put it this way: Suppose that Walter Reuther opens a small one-man grocery store. He is in business primarily to make a living. He finds that he must have a general handy-man to help. He hires X at $50 a week, which is all that the business can afford. After two or three months, X decides that the pay is insufficient for himself and family. Is it incumbent on Reuther, who can afford no more, to pay X more? Should he remain in business at a loss to himself to assure X a job at pay that satisfies him?

Looked at from any angle, this is the basis of all enterprise. Each is a business of one or more persons. Fair return to ownership, whether of individual or stockholders, is the initial consideration. Otherwise, there is no business. It must be the basis of collective bargaining.

Beyond this, in both sound practice and justice, management owes a fair return for fair service. Management and labor are partners in the sense that, unless the enterprise pays its way, neither has a job. The basic consideration on management's side should be that, subject to earning power of the concern, specific employment should be paid at a fair rate.

Under normal conditions, that should be in terms of real dollar value. It is only when business earnings are sufficient to justify that the worker can receive incentive rewards. Sensible profit sharing is fairly generally recognized today by business and industry. But it does not pre-suppose that holding a job makes every worker an actual partner and stockholder.—The Dallas Morning News.

RECALLING Other Years

★ Being news items taken from old files of Your Home - Town Newspaper, The Herald.

Puett of Abilene, pinned beneath her overturned car near the highway. They succeeded in extricating her, and carried her to an Aspermont doctor.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Among news items of interest to Hamlin community 10 years ago were the following, reprinted from the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated May 14, 1948:

Several new wells in recent years in the Hamlin territory reflect a growing interest by operators in the local fields.

Hamlin Cardinals lost their baseball game in the new Double Mountain League Sunday afternoon to the Abilene Merchants by a 7 to 5 count.

Hamlin High School's Pled Pipers are leading the District 5-A baseball league race by a small margin by virtue of their nine victories and one loss so far.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

From the issue of The Hamlin Herald dated May 15, 1953, the following news items of interest were taken, reflecting happenings of five years ago in the Hamlin community:

Hamlin section received 1.43 inches of rain over the week-end. The rainfall will greatly benefit row crops of the region. The precipitation brings the year's total rainfall to 5.11 inches, less than half the normal fall.

Hamlin High School's relay team composed of James Burkhardt, Don Kelly, Glenn Smith and Joe Don Hunsar, won third place in last week's state Intercollegiate League meet held at Austin.

Congressman Burleson Says Clamor For Less Tax, More Spending Is Idiotic

Most heard around Washington these days is "tax less" and "spend more," asserts Congressman Omar Burleson in his weekly news release to The Herald. His news letter continues:

Either of these taken separately may make some sense, but taken together it is near idiotic. To cut taxes without cutting government spending is, to put it mildly, a disregard and an injustice to children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

From the political standpoint it does, however, sound good to talk about cutting taxes and, at the same time, spend money for every cause and purpose anyone can dream up.

It follows the proposition mentioned before in this column that all blessings come from Washington, and that government can cure all ills.

And, speaking of children, a recent survey of 6,000 high school students over the United States indicates that 25 per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls believe that government should control basic industries such as power, steel and railroads. The poll among high school students reveals that most seniors believe that business is not good for the country. Fifty-six per cent declared that the government could eliminate economic problems by taking from the rich and giving to the poor. Sixty-one per cent favored government censorship and control of press, radio and TV.

This strongly suggests that we are not imbuing the youth of this country with the principles of free enterprise, which, of course, is basic to our economic system.

While we are talking of better education in the sciences and mulling over the many proposals to improve the deficiencies found in this field, it seems pretty obvious that somebody should be doing something about teaching the basic philosophies which have made us the greatest country and the greatest people on earth.

Hybernica Grace taught history and economics in Anson High School. Dr. Earl Brown taught economics in Abilene Christian College, and Dr. W. Ashbury Stephenson taught economics and politics in Hardin-Simmons University. Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, author of "Divided We Stand," taught the same in the University of Texas. All these teachers were my instructors.

If it could be summed up in one sentence, the idea in their teaching was that every individual American should be guaranteed the right by his government to earn and accomplish that which he wishes to accomplish by his own ability, initiative and energy, so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others.

Milton E. Crow Takes Part in Exercises by Big Navy Maneuver

Milton E. Crow, fire control technician seaman of the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crow of 836 Southeast Avenue A in Hamlin, aboard the support aircraft carrier USS Princeton, is taking part in "Strikex," a U. S. First Fleet striking force exercise being held off the coast of Southern California.

Nineteen ships, plus carrier and land-based aircraft from 15 squadrons are taking 12,000 personnel into the operation.

The ships and aircraft at sea form the fast moving "blue" attacking forces which are launching raids against simulated targets on the West Coast. "Orange" defensive forces consist of Navy attack, fighter and patrol aircraft and submarines based on the West Coast.

Striking force exercises are designed to give advanced training to personnel preparing to deploy to the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

THIS IS the correct picture of Ginger Rabjohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rabjohn, Hamlin High School Junior, who recently was named delegate to Girls' State at Austin. The Herald last week inadvertently used another picture.

WEED CONTROL VITAL.

Weeds often cause a tremendous reduction in pasture and hay yields, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Their control is essential for best returns. The methods of control he mentioned are prevention, cultivation, mowing and chemical control.

Motorists Urged to Support Campaign to Slow-Down-and-Live

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, called on Texans this week to give their full support to the upcoming slow-down-and-live campaign which will be sponsored throughout the state by TSA between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

"Most traffic accidents are the result of human failure. Drivers simply do not follow traffic regulations as they should," the safety expert said. "If we want to cut traffic deaths and injuries, we must halt speeding and other forms of carelessness, recklessness and thoughtlessness on streets and highways."

Musick urged citizens to drive within speed limits and to brush up on other traffic laws so they may follow them to the letter. He said that the only solution to the problem of traffic deaths and injuries is voluntary compliance by drivers. The principal aim of this year's stepped up campaign, he said, will be to sell the public on safer traffic conduct, especially in regard to fast driving.

"Cotton: Nature's Wonder Fiber" was the title of an interesting and informative film on the production, harvesting, milling and manufacture of cotton which was shown at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

Although most of the attendants at the luncheon have lived in the Cotton Belt all their lives, the colored film gave new angles to the cotton industry. Close-up pictures of plants actually growing, blooming and producing cotton proved especially interesting. Following harvest of the cotton, processes of ginning, sampling, grading, shipping and milling the cotton were shown, including detailed pictures of spinning, weaving, dyeing and printing of various kinds of cloth.

The film was provided by R. L. McClung of the oil mill.

Fortcoming District 2-E convention at Fort Worth, on May 30 and 31, was stressed by President Willard Jones. Delegates to the meeting will be named soon.

Plans for the semi-annual ladies' night were approved by the board of directors for Tuesday evening, June 10, at the guest house. Officers for the new club year beginning July 1 will be installed at that meeting.

THE CHANGING SCENE

THE BUILT-IN RANGE ISN'T A NEW IDEA. 100 YEARS AGO COAL AND WOOD BURNING STOVES WERE BUILT INTO WALLS.

THE BUILT-IN OF 1958, HOWEVER, IS A FAR CRY FROM THE OLD STOVE OF 100 YEARS AGO. AUTOMATIC LP-GAS FEATURES MAKE COOKING A PLEASURE RATHER THAN A CHORE.

New Official Highway Map of Texas Shows Many New Features and Data

It's here! It's new! It's free! The Texas Highway Department this week released the big new 1958 official highway travel map. Maps may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas, or at the highway district offices and Travel Information Bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The official highway travel map is used by all state and governmental agencies in Texas for determining highway distances, mileages, zones and like information. The same map is used by Texas tourists seeking roads to recreational and historical attractions throughout the state. The reverse side of the map reflects in full color some of the outstanding scenic and recreational facilities in Texas.

Texas' new 1958 travel map is the answer to today's demand for more and more information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over 7,000,000 just 10 years ago to its present estimated population of more than 9,000,000 is reflected by the information shown.

The number of cities and towns indicated on the 1948 map was 567. Today there are 1,812—an increase of 1,245. State and U. S. highways have been increased by 2,026 miles, and farm-to-market roads from 620 miles to 11,126 miles—a 10,506-mile increase. The map reflects a total of 43,292 miles of highways.

Roadside parks, long cherished by Texas highway users, were 207 shown on the 1948 map. Today 1,026 roadside parks are pinpointed as pleasant stopping places. Divided highways also show a startling jump in the 10-year period. In 1948 there were 110 miles of divided road shown. Now there are 1,007 miles marked on the map with the black bands and red center indicating divided highway miles.

City Fire Losses More Than Double Last Year's to Date

Fire losses in the City of Hamlin so far this year are nearly three times what they were this time last year, according to a tabulation of statistics made recently by officials of the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department.

To date in 1958 insured fire losses have amounted to $9,384.81 as compared with losses of $3,500 for the entire year of 1957.

Statistical information furnished by the department shows that the volunteer firemen have answered eight alarms in the city, three alarms in Fisher County and one alarm in Jones County since the first of the year.

The firemen attended the spring convention at Rotan. The two-man hook-up team of John Steele and Don Elmore placed second in the two-man race.

Victor Ortiz, chaplain of the Hamlin department, was elected to a full term as chaplain of the Mid-West Texas Firemen's Association, having served in the unexpired term of the previous chaplain, who moved out of the association territory last year.

The department has purchased a pick-up truck with a body to be equipped as an emergency rescue unit. The equipment will include first aid supplies, oxygen resuscitator, stretcher, portable light plant, etc.

The firemen have recently begun a first aid course. It is the approved Red Cross course of 10 hours and is being taught by E. W. (Andy) Anderson, a qualified instructor, who is line chief with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Nazarene Church Sets Services for Pentecost Week

During Pentecost Week this year over 4,500 simultaneous holiness revivals will be sponsored by Churches of the Nazarene throughout the world. Rev. Bill Hanna, pastor of the Hamlin church, announces a holiness convention will be conducted here May 21, 23, 24 and 25.

Special speaker for the meeting is Rev. Lonnie Voorhies of Eastland. Rev. Voorhies has been a successful pastor and evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene and the Evangelical Methodist Church. His preaching is sound and scriptural in every way, declares Hanna.

Music for the services will be provided by the local choir and musicians under the direction of Odean Murphree. Services will begin nightly at 7:30 and at 10:45 Sunday morning. Sunday School is at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. There will be no service Thursday evening due to the commencement exercises.

The Church of the Nazarene emphasizes the truth of scriptural holiness. In this emphasis it is Wesleyan in theology. Rev. Hanna urges all who are interested in the Biblical presentation of this deeper Christian experience to attend these services.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—Leaders of the Texas cotton farming industry, long plagued by regional flooding, have joined hands. Object: To try to stave off a drastic cut in the 1959 acreage allotments.

Unless the present farm law is amended by Congress this session, the national cotton acreage allotment would drop automatically from the presently authorized national quota of 17,500,000 acres to approximately 14,200,000 acres in 1959.

Spokesmen from all the state's cotton producing areas met in Austin to hammer out an alternate proposal. Their plan:

1. Retain the 17,500,000 national acreage allotment.
2. Give farmers a choice between planting higher acreage at lower price supports or lower acreage with higher supports.
3. Abolish the present soil bank program.

It was the first time, said leaders, that this Texas industry had been so well unified behind a program. In previous years, East and West Texas growers have been at loggerheads over quotas.

Texas cotton men say that neither they nor the economy as a whole can stand the threatened 20 to 25 per cent slash.

Of the 17,500,000 acres now allotted to cotton over the nation, Texas has 7,474,000, giving the state a hefty stake in the future of the industry.

A Stitch in Time.—Thrifty farm families who can a good portion of their yearly produce will probably have the best chances of survival if nuclear bombs ever should fall on Texas.

These and other facts bearing on the key role of rural and small town citizens in civil defense were pointed up as Texans participated in the nationwide practice exercise "Operation Alert."

For two days officials and representatives of agencies making up the State Civil Defense Council sat in the non-lit bomb-proof "Survivor Center" in the Department of Public Safety building. Pretending five cities had been hit, they practiced coping with the gigantic problems that would arise—maintaining government, re-establishing transportation, communication and power facilities, providing food, shelter and medical attention for victims, escaping radio-active fall-out.

Small towns and rural areas would serve as reception centers for evacuees from target cities.

Providing food is regarded as especially crucial. "If all transportation were knocked out, Texas would have only 14 days' supply of food," says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill. Garden plots and crops in the field might be ruined by fall-out. Frozen foods might spoil for lack of electricity.

Hence, if worst comes to worst, a well stocked pantry is seen as an ace in the hole.

Living Within Means.—Texas government should try to make

HOME-MADE COMPOST.

Home-made compost will greatly improve the structure of garden soil and result in better production, according to B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist. Grass clippings, leaves, weeds and plant residues are a few materials that he says will make suitable compost.

The commission plan of city government was first used at Galveston as an emergency measure after the 1900 flood.

Taxpayers Warned To Attach W-2 Forms To Income Returns

Taxpayers who worked for more than one employer during 1937 must be sure to attach to their federal income tax returns for the year all their W-2 withholding tax certificates, A. E. Fogle Jr. of Internal Revenue Service at Abilene, warned this week.

"Many people work for several business firms during a year," Fogle said. "Generally, such firms will give employees who have left their employment proper certificates soon after they leave the company. These certificates must be used in computing tax status at the end of the year.

"Frequently we receive returns lacking two or three such withholding forms. Checking against our own copies of the W-2s furnished us by employers reveals tax discrepancies. Short term workers who have never received W-2s from firms by which they were employed should request the mat once; those who have lost them should ask for duplicates."

Bunyan Payne Shown In Navy Dress Review

A Hamlin sailor was pictured recently in a picture of the graduating class of the Naval Air Station at Oceana, Virginia. He was Bunyan Payne, chief instructor of radar of the guided missile service unit No. 43. The picture was made last month in front of the station administration building, as the executive officer of NAS Oceana, Commander H. M. Pugh, inspected the group, dressed in dress white. Letters of commendation were sent to parents of the graduates.

Payne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Payne of Hamlin. He married the former Verna Mae Sipe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Sipe. He has been in the service for 17 years.

County Ministers Attend Meeting on Soil Stewardship

Fourteen ministers from the churches in Hamlin, Anson, Funston, Ericksdahl and Stamford attended a soil stewardship meeting sponsored by the California Creek Soil Conservation District last Friday morning at Stamford.

After breakfast, colored slides of conservation work being done in the district were shown to the group. L. W. Stenholm, chairman of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, gave a short history of the district, its objectives and accomplishments.

Following the program, the group made a field trip to observe conservation on the ground. The preachers saw wheat following blue panic grass in rotation and vetch being grown as a soil improving crop on the Hiram Olson farm near Avoca. The next stop was the L. W. Stenholm farm, where second year sorghum and alfalfa grass was growing. The last stop was the B. O. Youngquist farm, where rye and vetch were being grown in rows for soil improvement. The ministers were shown the advantages of a good soil conservation program.

Ministers present were: Marshall Rhew, Newton Staros and Elmer Sprecher of Stamford; Calvin Bailey, Victor Ortiz and Woodrow McHugh of Hamlin; Furman Cauthern, J. C. Willett, Bill Hawthorne, James N. Easterwood and Aubrey Haynes of Anson; H. B. Haterius of Ericksdahl; M. Shatto of Sagerton; and Bill Beatty of Funston.

Others present were: L. W. Stenholm of Avoca, Eldridge Nix of Anson and Bruno Kupatt of Sagerton, all members of the board of supervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District; and Charles Hewitt, technician of the Soil Conservation Service.

IN THE DARK PAST.

"We travelers were discussing foreign cities. Said the first one, 'London is most certainly the foggiest city in the world.' 'Oh no, it's not,' said the second globe-trotter. 'I've seen a place much foggier than London.' 'Where was it?' queried the friend.

"By golly," came the reply, "it was so foggy I can't remember where it was."

Most Lakes of Region Hold Good Supplies Of Water, Says Board

Although very little rain that produced running water to fill lakes and tanks in the Hamlin territory has fallen in recent weeks, water level in Paint Creek Lake northeast of Stamford, from which Hamlin gets much of its domestic water supply, continues to hold up well. The lake at the end of April held 76 per cent of its capacity of 60,000 acre feet, or about 45,100 acre feet, according to the monthly report of the Texas Board of Water Engineers.

Other lakes of the area also held good supplies. Fort Phantom Hill was full, Possum Kingdom Lake near Graford had 89 per cent of capacity. Lake J. B. Thomas near Snyder had 91 per cent; Oak Creek near Blackwell held 100 per cent of capacity.

Record Keeping by Farmers Being Urged For Maximum Profits

Unpredictable Texas weather has brought heavy rains and low soil temperatures making it necessary for many farmers to replant this spring.

Two management precautions should be observed by such farmers who want to make maximum profits, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

First, he advises, take time to find good quality seed. Don't stake the rest of your season's investment on questionable seed stock. Purchase seed bearing the certified blue tag, giving assurance of highest quality.

The next suggestion Bates gives is keep records of these added expenses. These abnormal expenditures may be deducted on income tax, but verifications may be necessary. Keep an account of such expenses in a record book. Too, invoices may be kept to provide a "double check."

Spend some time on your farm records every week, advises Bates, and make certain no deductible expense items are overlooked.

The 20-year-old soldier is a 1935 graduate of Hamlin High School. Hopper was employed by the Texas Highway Department in civilian life.

Several Changes Made in Provisions of Wheat Acreage Allotment Law in 1958

Several major changes have recently been made in the wheat acreage allotment law, and many wheat producers in the Hamlin area are vitally concerned. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee offices of the region have asked The Herald to print the following explanations:

U. S. Department of Agriculture explained the effect of new legislation under Public Law 85-366, enacted April 4, 1958, on the computation of future acreage allotments for wheat.

The general effect of the new law is to alter the past practice under which the farm that exceeded its wheat allotment received credit for the entire harvested wheat acreage for the year determining future allotments. Under the new legislation, one set of requirements will apply to the 1958 wheat crop and another to 1959 and subsequent crops, as follows:

For the 1958 crop—
Individual farm allotments: A farmer who over-produces his 1955 wheat allotment will receive credit for the 1958 farm base acreage (adjusted four-year average) as 1955 history, just as the farmer who complies with his allotment does. However, he cannot receive credit for more than the base acreage, regardless of acreage produced. These legal provisions deal only with wheat acreage history and have no effect on marketing quota provisions. Any allotment in 1958 will be subject to marketing quotas. A producer who has over-planted his 1958 allotment has until the disposal date for his area to decide whether or not to dispose of his excess acreage. The amendment does not affect producers who have obtained a feed wheat exemption. The provisions of the application signed by such producers that none of the wheat acreage in excess of the wheat allotment will be considered in establishing future farm wheat acreage allotments will remain in effect.

State and county allotments: In computing future state and county allotments, 1958 wheat acreage in excess of farm allotments will not be counted. Thus, excess farm wheat acreage will not produce an increase in the state or county allotments in future years. For the state and county calculations the 1958 acreage history of a farmer who exceeds his allotment will be the allotment. In other words, a non-complying farm's wheat history will be listed as one figure for purposes of the farm allotment computation and at another for purposes of computing state and county allotments.

For 1959 and subsequent years: Individual farm allotments: If the acreage allotment is exceeded, the farm's wheat history for the year will be the allotment. To receive credit for the base acreage as history a farmer who exceeds his allotment may store the excess wheat under marketing quota regulations or deliver it to the government. Farmers who plant within their allotments will continue to get credit not only for acreage harvested but also for the acreage diverted from wheat under the allotment program. Thus, over a period of years, the producer who exceeds his allotment will accumulate a smaller acreage history than the farmer who complies with his allotment.

Summer School on Cotton Classing Set At A. & M. College

Some Hamlin area residents may be interested in the forty-ninth annual summer cotton school on cotton classing and marketing, which will be held Jan. 2 to July 11 at Texas A. & M. College.

Conducted by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, the school offers instruction in cotton grading, stapling, determination of cotton properties and cotton trade procedure.

Instruction, according to Professor J. M. Ward, chairman for the summer school, is handled by men who have extensive successful practical experience in the cotton business as well as in teaching.

During the course students will visit laboratories on the campus which deal with closely allied subjects, such as the governmental spinning laboratory, and the cottonseed oil research laboratory.

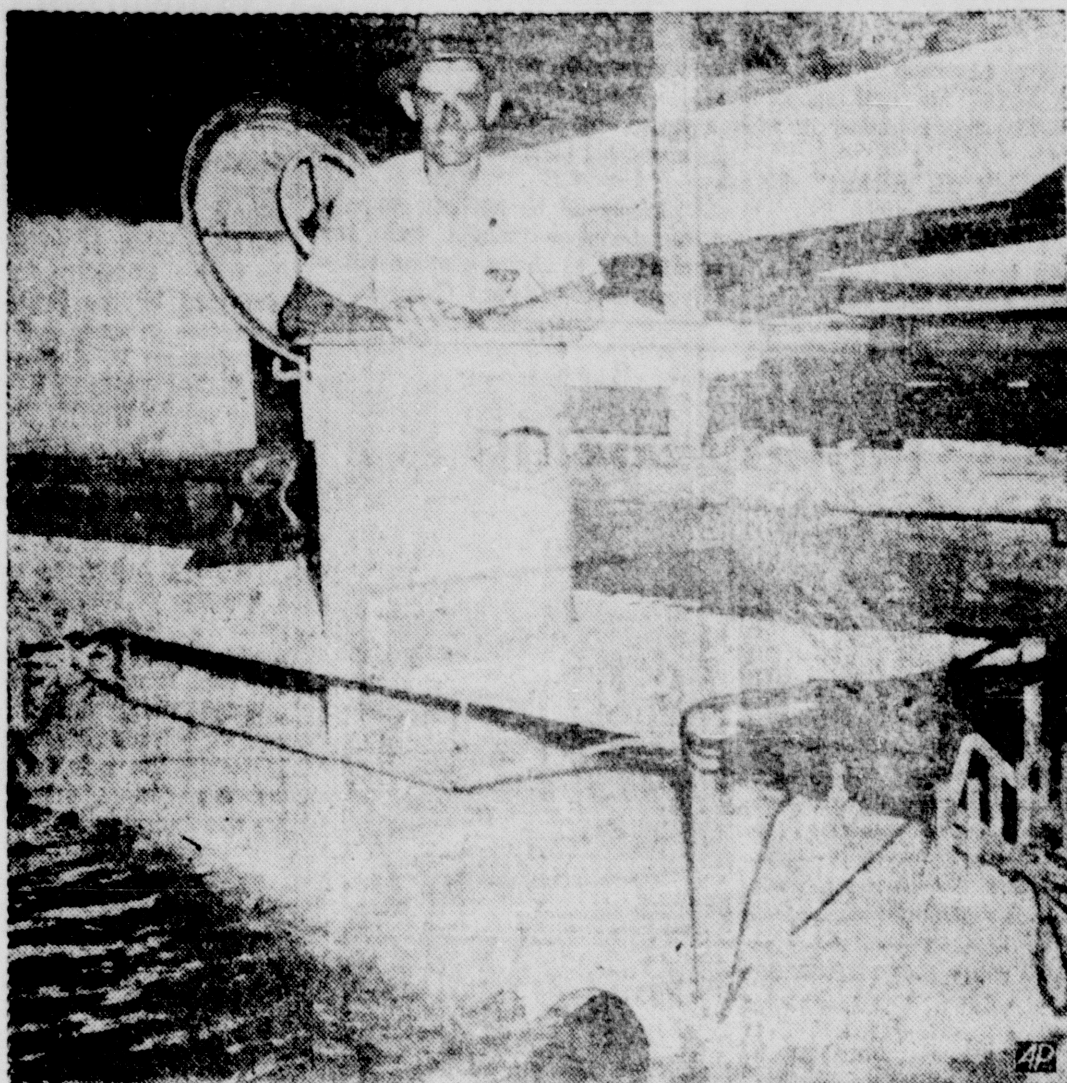

Instruction begins at 8:00 a. m. Tuesday, June 3, in the rear room on the third floor of the agricultural engineering building. Registration begins at 8:00 a. m. Monday, June 2, in the same room. Professor Ward will be in charge.

Achievement Tests Being Given Students Of Three City Schools

Achievement tests for students in the elementary and junior high school grades of Hamlin schools have been underway for several days, school officials report.

Fourth and fifth grade students of Hamlin Elementary School were given the tests last week. Pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grade were given the tests last week and first of this week. Students in the elementary grades at DePriest Colored School are being given the tests this week, according to Principal E. S. Morgan.

The tests, designed to give parents and others a summary of the all-around accomplishments of students' school work, include tests in social studies, health and safety, language, literature, spelling, science, mathematics reasoning, problems in mathematics, etc.

TO JOIN TEXAS NAVY—Corsicana Plumbing Inspector Ray Bass poses in the hatch of Turtle II, the home-made submarine he constructed with the help of his cousin, Pete Hardgrave, in a welding shop in Corsicana. Governor Price Daniel said he will come to Corsicana some time in June to "commission" the sub in the Texas Navy.

Leptospirosis Is Causing Losses in Livestock of State

Livestock raisers of the Hamlin area will be concerned with the release this week from Jones County Agent Kirby Clayton on the livestock disease, "leptospirosis." Once thought to be unimportant to the livestock industry, this disease is now known to be causing extensive losses.

Surveys conducted during 1956 and 1957 by the Texas station show the disease to be widespread in cattle and swine in the state. More than half of the herds tested had animals that were positive to the leptospira test. Sheep, goats and horses may also be affected, but the extent of the disease among these animals is unknown. Deer and several other types of wildlife suffer from the disease and may serve as a reservoir.

Leptospirosis has a wide range of symptoms that make a diagnosis in the field difficult. It may affect most of the animals in a herd without recognizable illness. On the other hand, there may be numerous abortions and up to five per cent death loss among grown animals. But usually the death losses are confined to calves and one out of three of those affected may succumb.

First symptoms, says the agent, are high temperature, coffee-colored or blood-tinged urine, and a sudden decrease in milk production. The milk may be viscous and yellow as in mastitis, but the udder will be limp and cool. Abortion may occur if the animal is in late pregnancy.

The membranes of the animal's eye and mouth become pale and take on a decidedly yellow color due to the extreme destruction of red blood cells.

Leptospirosis is relatively mild in swine except for its effect on the pregnant sow. She will often abort especially if in the last third of gestation. If not, part or all of the pigs may be born dead or die soon after birth. It may pass through a herd of feeder pigs without symptoms being observed.

County Agent Clayton emphasized the importance of calling a veterinarian immediately if leptospirosis is suspected in the herd. If treated early, most cases respond to some of the newer drugs. He states that observations by the Texas Experiment Station indicate considerable benefit from vaccination against this disease. The bacterin now available provides immunity in cattle and swine for a period of six months or more.

NEW DIRECTOR—Dr. Cyril J. Ruilman has been named in Austin as director of State Mental Hospitals. Ruilman will assume his duties the first of June. He presently is commissioner of mental health for the state of Tennessee.

County Attorney Speaks on Youth's Future at Rotary

"Promise of Tomorrow for Our Youth" was the topic of discussion when Charlie Brownfield, county attorney, spoke at last Wednesday's weekly Rotary Club luncheon at the oil mill guest house.

The attorney declared that it is vital to the future of our county, state and nation that we provide companionship and guidance for the young people of today as they strive to withstand temptations and meet the problems of tomorrow.

Brownfield declared that we are to watch the signposts of inflation, communism and other factors that threaten the freedom, security and privileges of living in a democracy as we plan for the future of youths.

He cited the fact that such activities as Boy Scouting and Girl Scouting help to mold manhood and womanhood into our boys and girls.

Besides the speaker, other guests at last Wednesday's luncheon meeting were A. B. Youngblood of Abilene; Ed Darnell, Bob Martin and H. D. Norris of Sweetwater; K. K. Francis, Bob Hall and W. M. Blackburn of Stamford; and Georganna Fitzgerald, who was club sweetheart and pianist for the day.

Traffic Signs Are Guide-Posts for Driving in Safety

"Traffic signs are guide-posts for a safe driver," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said this week as he discussed the importance of observing traffic signals and markings.

"Thinking drivers are aided by these signs," he said, "because they know that they have been placed in most areas of danger to forewarn motorists and pedestrians of traffic hazards."

Musick advised motorists to learn the sign shapes and know the meaning of each one, so that they can be recognized at once, even at a distance. The six signs are:

Octagon, the stop sign, is yellow with black letters. It means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding.

Rectangle, white with black lettering, states the law, including speed limits, parking regulations and turning and passing laws.

Diamond, warning, yellow with black lettering, warns of school zones, curves, side roads, intersections and other hazardous areas ahead.

Round, yellow with black X and RR. This identifies a railroad-highway crossing.

Crossbuck, the tall white railroad crossing sign stands at the crossing itself.

Triangle, yellow with black lettering and means yield right-of-way. This sign requires drivers to give the right-of-way to cross traffic by slowing down and being ready to stop if necessary.

Musick cautioned pedestrians to know and obey all signs, signals and markings directing pedestrian movements. These include traffic lights and crosswalk lines at intersections.

Fisher County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has made arrangements for issuing wheat marketing cards for the 1958 crop of wheat. Marketing cards are available to producers who do not have a farm marketing excess and will be delivered to producers at the Fisher County ASC office in Roby.

If it is not convenient for a producer to call by the ASC office for his wheat marketing card, he may receive one by requesting the county committee to mail it to him, office manager states.

Exploration of Outer Space Vital to Future of World, Says Senator Johnson

Legislation to create a federal agency with the specific responsibility of guiding the nation in the exploration of outer space is the subject of hearings now being conducted by the Senate special committee on space and astronautics, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. In his weekly news letter to The Herald, his release continues: I am chairman of this committee, and in opening the hearings I stated their purpose in these words:

"What is before us now is not a question of whether we should begin the orderly exploration of space, but rather, the question of how such exploration may best be directed and initiated. We are past the point of studying sketches. It is time to get the blueprints drawn and start pouring concrete for the foundation."

The primary legislation before the committee is a bill drafted by advisers to the president. It is my expectation that public examination and discussion of the terms of the bill can contribute many strengthening recommendations. Seldom, if ever, have a Congress and an administration faced a more challenging task.

What we do now may very well decide, in a large sense, what our nation is to be 20 years and 50 years and 100 years from now—and our decisions now can have the greatest influence upon determining whether the world moves toward a millennium of peace or plunges recklessly toward destruction.

Space affects all of us and all that we do, in our private lives, in our business, in our education and in our government. As Americans we shall succeed or fail in relation to our national success in incorporating the exploration and utilization of space into all aspects of our society and the enrichment of all phases of our life on this earth.

Citizens Urged to Contact SS Office About Payments

Residents of the Hamlin area were urged this week by R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager, to get in touch with the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration for information regarding payments under the old age and survivors' insurance program.

Tuley stated that his office encounters numerous instances of applicants for benefits who have relied on erroneous or misleading advice received from friends or relatives. As a result they have mistaken ideas about requirements for social security payments and the amount of the payments which they will receive. In several recent cases failure to obtain correct information before reaching retirement age has had serious effects on the applicant's plans for retirement, he added.

The Abilene office of the Social Security Administration receives all applications for retirement and survivors' payments from residents of 13 surrounding counties. In addition, the office receives applications in and around Taylor County for disability payments from qualified workers 50 years of age or more and applications to "freeze" the wage records of disabled workers under age 50. As of May 8, 1958, the Abilene office had forwarded 2,513 applications for retirement or survivors' payments and 297 applications for disability payments.

Informational material regarding all phases of the social security insurance program is available and a representative of the office is normally available to meet with groups desiring a speaker.

Tuley suggested that all students who plan to work during the summer vacation, and who have not obtained a social security card, do so immediately. Application blanks for cards can be obtained at the Abilene office or at the post office nearest their homes.

Outer space is a new frontier. It is waiting to be developed. It holds opportunities that can hardly be dreamed of today.

If these opportunities are to be fully realized, our nation must call on every sector of the country for maximum contributions. The total resources of our own Texas and Southwest must be totally developed—soundly, expeditiously, effectively.

The 10 years immediately ahead in my opinion, will see the most rapid expansion of our economy of any comparable period in history. The industrial capacity of Texas has increased four times more during the last 20 years than during all the previous years of the state's history. It is exciting to think what the next 20 years will bring.

There is work enough for all in the big task before us. That is why I feel so strongly that we must continue our efforts, government and private enterprise combining their strength, to combat the business slump and provide jobs for people who need them. This is no time for lagging or half-hearted endeavor.

Let's push ahead!

Film About Woman With Three Lives Set For Saturday Seeing

One of the most shocking and unusual pictures ever to be filmed from an actual life story, "The Three Faces of Eve," a Twentieth Century-Fox cinemascope production, playing Saturday only at the Ferguson and Drive-In Theaters, stars a screen newcomer, Joanne Woodward as Eve. David Wayne and Lee J. Cobb are in supporting roles.

Miss Woodward, a Hollywood import from New York and the famed Actor's Studio, scored an immediate success as the drab Georgia housewife who had become not one, but three distinct persons inhabiting a single body.

Produced and directed by Nunally Johnson from an original case history by two Augusta, Georgia psychiatrists, the story concerns a rare case of "multiple personality," a phenomenon of unique medical significance.

The audience sits spellbound as Miss Woodward captures to the last detail the drab, mousey Eve White, the sexy, provocative Eve Black, her "other" self, and the mature, poised Jane, a personality born of the struggle between the other two.

Using only her plastic, sensitive face, Miss Woodward, brilliantly supported by Wayne as her dull, unimaginative husband, and Lee J. Cobb as the doctor who helps her to a new life, thrilled, shocked and holds fascinated the audiences.
